

MOUNTAINS

Mountains are made of rock and soil.

They stand above the land and take millions of years to form.

A lot of people love going to the mountains.

In winter, we go there to ski down the mountain slopes.

In summer, we go there to camp, fish or hike.

If a mountain is very high you can see snow on its peak even in the middle of summer.

The highest mountains in the world do not have any plants on their peaks.

Many animals live in the mountains.

Eagles have their nests on the cliffs and the wild goats love the mountain rocks.

Mountains are home to rabbits, brown bears and deer too.

Flowers in the mountains are small and grow very slowly.

Some of them are: purple clover, liatris, Indian paintbrush and golden rod.
